

ABSTRACTS

УДК 330.1:32

G. Kolodko

NEW PRAGMATISM – FUTURE ECONOMY AND POLICY

Alternative platforms of market economy development are explored; it is shown that the new pragmatism, based on minimization of the uneven distribution of income, allows for more substantial increase of social satisfaction than with the growth of inequality. These results demonstrate the levers, which, first of all, must utilize the state in the regulation of the economy.